FIFTEEN CENTS

Trustees to Decide CABL's Fate

The fate of the CABL property is now in the hands of the Antioch village board.

The planning and zoning committee, chaired by trustee Ron Cunningham, has 30 days following last week's public hearing to make its recommendation to the board.

CABL corporation, its lawyers and the Village Plan Commission have worked on the terms of the annexation for five years. In that time, a number of changes, bargains and disagreements have often made the negotiations a time of stormy and bitter dispute. Decisions concerning other developments, particularly the Santino property, have taken their toll as well.

"The 'guts' of the matter," according to CABL attorney F. James Lumher, is the property itself. Currently asked is R-2 (residential) zoning for 139 acres and B-2 (retail business) for 14.5 acres.

Lindenhurst Says No To Housing Project

By the closest possible vote, 2-3, (one absent), the Lindenhurst Village Board has denied application for single-family dwellings to Americana builders.

The board was in a sense "on its own" Monday night, for the plan commission gave no recommendation for the vote. The commission said the 113-lot, 40-acre development met the subdivision code, but was in opposition to the village's Master Plan.

The Master Plan is a document adopted in March of 1974 on the use of property. Though it is not strictly binding, it does indicate the village's basic plans for land use. In the case of the area to be called Americana Heights: all multi-family.

MAYOR TED Flanagan reported that lines will be painted and nets put up on the tennis courts this week. Lewis Park equipment, including basketball backboards, was installed Saturday by a group of citizen volunteers (and citizens volunteered, Flanagan jokingly hinted).

The Boy Scouts have promised to finish the work on street markers for the village soon.

Reporting from the public safety committee, trustee Al Ott said the bicycle safety checks held the past two Saturdays are considered a success. A total of 154 bikes were stamped and cards issued by the Lake Villa and Lindenhurst Jaycees who provided nearly all of the manpower at the B.J. Hooper School event.

Trustee Pat Kean, chairman of the transportation and safety committee, presented the results of a cost study done by the village engineer on road repair. Work such as improving culverts, ditches and catch basins, and shaping and grading roads and shoulders, was estimated at about $32,000. The board voted 5-0 to submit a resolution to the state to obtain funds to be used until next January for the work.

THE ENVIRONMENT committee, chaired by trustee Jim Johnson, is studying the potential purchase of the Lindenhurst Water Company. His committee has also looked into the conversion of power at the Hickory Drive lift station and recommends giving Standard Power the go-ahead on an estimate of $350 ($400 below another estimate) for additional wiring to be done.

In response to complaints of inequitable licensing of businesses in the Linden Plaza, trustee Fred Fabry said he will check the ordinances and issue licensing statements to all parties concerned, granting no exceptions.

"IT SEEMS the thing to do for three reasons," he says. "First, we need the money; second, if it's on the books, it should be enforced; and third, it would help settle the questions of unfair licensing."

The next regular village board meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m., June 23.

Expects $15,217

Mayor Ted L. Nielsen has announced that the village of Lake Villa plans to use the $15,217 anticipated from the Office of Revenue Sharing for operating and maintenance expenses to correct health problems arising from sanitary sewer and water problems.

"No matching federal funding will be used in conjunction with the planned use," Nielsen said.

Records documenting the planned use report will be open to public inspection during regular business hours at the village office, 65 Cedar Ave., the mayor said.

BARRY GOLDWATER

Domino Theory
Proved Right

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER

This is one of those times when I wish fervently that an earlier prediction of mine - this one on Vietnam and the "domino" theory - had been proved wrong.

I can see nothing but trouble ahead for the United States and the Free World in the rapid toppling of nations in Southeast Asia into the Communist Orbit.

As might have been expected, Cambodia was the first to fall. Now Laos has a coalition insisted that concept was dreamed up by the "hawks" to keep the United States actively aiding the Vietnamese. They said it would never happen.

These same voices argue today against "wasting time" in fixing blame for the fall of Vietnam. The last thing they want is a full discussion of the "domino" theory and how quickly it was proved correct.

What bothers me most is the power and influence the "anti-domino" clique has in Congress on matters directly affecting the strategic interests of the United States.

IF THEY could shout down a theory so well supported by history as the "domino" concept, there is no telling what they might come up with next. In such matters, the military experts apparently have no say whatsoever. Even when they do, the liberals claim the generals and the admirals are only trying to scare Congress into voting more funds for the Department of Defense.

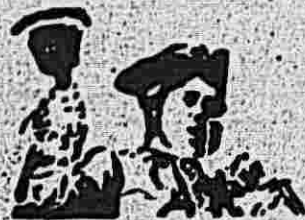

This certainly is no time for the United States to be basing its military decisions solely on the advice of partisan amateurs. Right now, we need the best direction we can get, and I don't believe those in or out of Congress who wanted us to cut and run from the Communists in Vietnam are the ones to give it to us.

No deal for Cleaver

Eldridge Cleaver, the former head of the Black Panthers, is telling reporters in Paris that he wants to come home to the United States of America. He has changed his mind about the country he left six years ago as a fugitive urging a black uprising to overthrow our government.

Cleaver is trying to extract a promise from U.S. authorities that he can post bail to stay out of jail pending a trial. The problem is that he is wanted both as a parole violator and for jumping bail while awaiting trial on an assault charge, circumstances which hardly justify giving him that consideration. From his world travels he may have decided that the American system of justice is not so bad after all, but he must still think it is a little naive.

Bonanza for senators

A new law requiring that members of the U.S. Senate file a public report on how much they collect in fees on the speech and lecture circuit casts a revealing light on this fringe benefit that comes with being a senator. Two senators actually earned more out on the stump than they did from the government, which pays them $42,500 a year for what their constituents must surely consider a full-time job.

It is also revealing about the temper of the times that 10 per cent of the senators did not file their outside-income reports by the deadline. We didn't think the post-Watergate era of scrupulous attention to a new set of rules for political conduct would be fading already.

Refugee aid lags

The prolonged stay of Vietnamese and Cambodian refugees at temporary centers in the Pacific is posing a potential health problem. Living in tents with makeshift sanitary provisions, the refugees are vulnerable to illness and the arrival of the rainy season soon will aggravate the problem, especially on the island of Guam where there are 47,000 men, women and children in refugee camps.

Some refugees are still aboard Navy ships in the Pacific. The strain on military units and their Pacific bases must be eased in order to keep the care of refugees from interfering with their military mission.

Processing and resettling of refugees here in the United States of America is proceeding much too slowly. President Ford's appointment of an advisory committee headed by John Eisenhower to oversee the resettlement effort is a timely step. It can help move refugees out of the processing pipeline and into American communities.

The representation of church, industry and labor organizations on the committee reflects the fact that there is a point where government responsibility for the refugees must start to diminish while the participation of the American people themselves grows.

GROUND BREAKING CEREMONIES were held last week for the Heritage Professional Building on Main St., across from the Lower Grade School. From left: Village Trustee J. Irving Walsh, Building Commissioner Walter Delaney, Mayor Robert C. Wilton, Doctors William Vance and John H. Boarini, and Trustees Diane (Willie) Kasik and William H. Seemann. The two-story colonial building is scheduled for completion in October or November. There will be 6,700 square feet on each floor and parking for about 70 cars. In addition to the dental offices of Doctors Boarini and Vance, there will be an orthodontist in the building. "We still have lots of space for rent for general office use," Dr. Boarini said.

tially less than we had hoped for," says Lumber.

TERMS OF this zoning include CABL payment for sewer extension and hook-ups. Should they "go PUD" (conform to the restrictions of a Planned Unit Development), they would be limited to 5.4 dwelling units per acre. Two months ago, the plan commission, under chairman Ken Wierschem, gave unanimous approval to these terms.

In addition, CABL would give 10 to 12 acres to the schools.

But the Santino ruling "has had an ill effect on us," says Lumber. "It causes us to back away from the school proposal."

Wierschem maintains that Antioch "should see what we're taking in." He believes a pre-annexation agreement is necessary, stressing that such an agreement is not a zoning change in itself. He raised the question of CABL's credibility: should the village have faith in the group's reassurances?

Lumber responded with a counter-charge on the commission's credibility, stating that "nothing has been binding from earlier commissions over the five years. We were tolerant of that, but always had to start over (when commission membership changed). But we never questioned the plan commission's credibility. We still stand ready to achieve parity with other developers and school districts."

ANOTHER DEVELOPER, Americana, is working with the Lindenhurst school districts.

Warren Polley, Antioch Community High School superintendent, reported that at the Jan. 9 plan commission meeting all school districts were represented and the CABL document was to be signed but CABL did not show up. Glen Moore and Ray Atwood, spokesman for districts 117 and 34 school boards, respectively, agreed.

Henry Meyer, grade school district 34 superintendent, said that a verbal contract of land was offered to the schools by CABL. "But we went with a dollar donation instead of the land."

LUMBER CAUTIONED against distorting the matter of the schools. "There are many other benefits to the community," he asserted. But CABL fears that the limited density of PUD will make finding a suitable developer difficult.

William Seemann was the only trustee to ask questions of the groups represented, expressing concern over legal aspects and the board's responsibility to the parks, schools and citizens. "This our first annexation: I want to be sure it's done right," he said.

Ted Costoff of CABL says his group has always stressed equal treatment. "We've been willing to give without asking. Why demand of us and not others?"

St. Peter's Celebrates

St. Peter's parish will celebrate its 75th anniversary Sunday at 2 p.m. The event also will mark the 25th anniversary of St. Peter's school.

Cardinal John Patrick Cody will preside at the 2 p.m. Solemn High Mass if his health permits. If he is unable to attend, Bishop William E. McManus will preside.

Following the concelebrated Mass, there will be a champagne reception in St. Peter's Social Center. The Cardinal or Bishop along with Rev. Francis Johnson, pastor of St. Peter's, and Rev. Robert Melcher, his associate, will greet parishioners and friends at the reception.

A private dinner will follow the public reception. Priests and sisters who have served St. Peter's in the past will be honored, along with those who presently serve the parish.

Music for the Solemn High Mass will be provided by the combined adult and children's choirs under the direction of Fr. Melcher, and the guitar group that leads the Saturday Masses. Steve Keisler will accompany them on the organ.

Fr. Johnson said he hopes that all of Antioch will share in the celebration of St. Peter's Diamond Jubilee.

Students are encouraged to see Mr. Lindholm about enrolling in the Peer Counseling

Students and parents needing individual help with respect to college or career plans are being urged to make an appointment for summer counseling. College and career orientation for juniors is not sufficient for many students, school officials feel.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Parties, parties and more parties were the order of the day Sunday as Antioch Community High School graduated 310 students. Thank goodness the weatherman cooperated by keeping it fairly cool for the big day.

Talk about different campers - just saw one on the back of a motorcycle - enough room to lay down behind the seat and then a nice tall changing room. From the back it looked just like an outhouse!

FIREMEN AND Rescue Squad members and their ladies were treated to a duck dinner by Tony Knab of the Norshore Resort last Saturday. A superb meal cooked by Dick and Millie Stroner. Dancing followed - a very enjoyable evening for all.

By the way, the firemen will be out selling tickets to their annual street dance planned Saturday, June 28, from 9 p.m. till ?? Be sure to mark it on your calendar - always lots of fun.

Our condolences to the families of Emil Risch, Mrs.

I like to use the quote about never having met a man I didn't like, but I never can remember whether Will Rogers or Liz Taylor said it.

I HAVE BEGUN my campaign to make the list of the World's 10 Best Dressed Men in 1975. I started out by buying a pair of new shoes at Four Squires. Boy, are they comfortable. The shoe department is a welcome new addition to the Four Squires store.

Last year I was overlooked when they announced the "Best Dressed Men." I don't think this is fair, because as far as I know, nobody came to Antioch to see how I was dressed.

I notice that Burt Reynolds was on the list last year. That's funny ... I thought he was famous for not being dressed.

SUNDAY IS Father's Day and it's my recollection that Congrats to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Czapar who will celebrate their 53rd wedding anniversary this Saturday.

The Upper Grade School had more to celebrate last Thursday than just the last day of school. Physical Ed. teacher Steve Alberts became a father for the first time. Lisa Renee tipped the scales at 8 lbs. 1 1/2 oz. and is 21 inches long. Mommy Dee and the beautiful blond haired, blue eyed doll are doing just fine. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Milford Alberts of Freeport. Maternal grandmother is Mrs. Martha Hinkel of Park Forest. Congrats!!!

Sandy and Dennis Sheeham of Antioch became parents for the first time last Friday. Jason Paul weighed in at 9 lbs. 5 oz. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sheeham of Antioch and Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pyles of Antioch.

SPECIAL BIRTHDAY wishes to Maria Rose Mikula who celebrated on Tuesday of this week. Birthday congrats to Betty Davis and Marcia Sheeham and Estelle Gatch, celebrating on the 12th, to Jeff Schmidt, Richard Kinney and Rev Horton on the 13th, to Terry O'Brien and Laurie Good on the 15th, to Larry Ellis and Mark Kasik on the 16th and to John Davis on the 17th.

Anniversary greetings to Barb and Joe Rush on the 13th, and to Ruth and Bob Bemis on the 17th.

A speedy recovery to Barb Rush who is recovering from surgery at St. Clare's hospital in Monroe.

The best of luck to the proprietors of the new Schwinn bicycle shop on Main Street. Antioch welcomes you.

Old Farmer's Riddle: Why are a man's trousers so short? (Answer below.)

Ask the Old Farmer: I'm sure you remember Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which was made quite some time ago. But do you know the words to the old song that begins (or ends): "All Hail to Lydia Pinkham / Saviour of the human race"? H. M. Lynn, Mass.

The stuff used to be made in your town. The song was sung to the tune of the hymn, "I will sing of my redeemer." Allendale School Schedules Art Show

The State Bank of Antioch will host the second semi-annual Art Show being sponsored by the Recreation Unit of Allendale School for Boys.

The exhibit will be on display in the State Bank on Thursday, June 19, 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.; Friday, June 20, 9 a.m. to 8 p.m., and Saturday, June 21, 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The art exhibits, which include wood sculpture, decoupage, block prints, tables, bookends, string art, tin repose, hooked rug, jewelry, wireform, and watercolors, would be put to christy auction.

Mr. Kanwarjit Singh, recreational director at Allendale School, says he is firmly convinced that "art shows like this help to build a healthy community interaction with the Allendale agency and its population, and the process brings to the forefront the positive aspects of boys' abilities which the community so often is not aware of."

Such exposures for boys "in trouble" are very therapeutic, reinforcing and far-reaching in terms of their social recognition and acceptance by society, he added.

"Boys' creative impulse, through an art media, becomes one of the finest examples of self-expression. Accompanied by a sense of achievement, comes self-confidence, dignity, emotional fulfillment and respect for others," Mr. Singh said.

The entire collection of 126 exhibits is the result of workshop experience of boys from 11 to 16 years of age, under the guidance of Mr. Terry Larson, in charge of arts and crafts.

Mr. Larson said he finds his job very challenging, "for the task of initiation and motivation is hard because of the behavioral problems and short attention span of the boys."

Mr. Larson is assisted by Mrs. A. Burkle, a volunteer from Retired Senior Volunteers Program (RSVP). She is also chairman of the Lapidary section of Lake County Gem and Mineral Society.

The Allendale Art Show will be inaugurated by Antioch Mayor Robert Wilton at the State Bank on Thursday, June 19 at 9:30 a.m. and proceeds realized from the exhibit will go towards the betterment of the Allendale Recreational Program.

AN EXCITING VARIETY OF ART MEDIA is included in the second semi-annual Art Show being hosted by the State Bank of Antioch and sponsored by the Recreational Unit of Allendale School for Boys. The exhibit will be on display Thursday, June 19 through Saturday, June 21. The entire collection of 126 exhibits will demonstrate the Allendale boys' efforts in (above) tin repose decoupage, wood sculpture and rock forms, as well as block prints, tables, bookends, string art, hooked rug, jewelry, wireform and watercolors. Those attending the three-day display will view fine examples of self-expression, resulting in the boys' sense of achievement.

ENGAGED

Regina Dickerson
Richard Luszczak

Easter morning was truly special this year to Regina Kay Dickerson and Richard Lewis Luszczak, for they announced their engagement and plans for an Aug. 30 wedding.

Regina, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stacy Dickerson, 2435 Emmaus Ave., Zion, attended

Zion-Benton High School and is now taking an interior decorating course with LaSalle Extension University. She is employed as an optometrist's assistant in Waukegan.

Richard, of Rt. 4, Antioch, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Luszczak. He graduated from Salem Central High School in 1965 and served in the U.S. Navy for four years. He now works as a meat-cutter for Jewel Food Stores.

The couple will reside in their new Antioch home.

Lake Villa Drivers Are Stars

Drivers from Lake Villa, a community of less than 1,100, dominated the competition last Saturday evening on the third-mile track at nearby Wilmet, winning three of the four main events and two heat races.

Veteran driver Whitey Harris, in his first night of racing this season, drove his familiar No. 5 to victory in his heat race and then came back to clean house in the semi-feature for super modified racing machines. The crowd of 1,900 gave him a rousing reception on his victory lap.

In the sportsman division, Don Collins took an easy win in his heat race and then brought the crowd to its feet in a see-saw battle with brothers Duke and Please turn to page 17

Dad's Day usually ends around noon. He gets a lot of attention in the morning and then, after he has given up his golf match to be with the family, the kids scatter off in their own directions after the gifts are opened. And Dad is left alone while his foursome is out on the course.

Shortly after the Father's Day idea was conceived, in 1910, the dandelion was selected as the official flower of the day. Not only because Dad's lawn is full of them, but because the more the dandelion is trampled on the better it grows.

When my daughters were young, I remember receiving a lot of neckties that were too loud for my conservative personality and smoking a lot of cigars that weren't my brand.

BUT IT'S really difficult for me to be cynical when I think of that freshly picked bouquet of wild flowers my little girl would bring to me on Sunday morning, along with an adoring hug, and the home-made card painstakingly printed in quavering letters:

"Happy Father's Day, Daddy. I love you and I hope I am just like you when I grow up."

Luckily, she turned out a lot prettier.

Dotter Scores Win At Waukegan Track

Bob Dotter stopped Tom Jones' Waukegan Speedway winning streak at three Saturday night by finishing six feet ahead of him in the 50-lap main event.

Dotter passed Ray Young, George Dukas, Lee Schuler and Ed Dunne to take the lead in the 7th lap. Jones finally passed Carl Major in the 27th lap for second spot.

It was Dotter's third win at Waukegan and the 22nd feature victory in his career. Dotter races with just one hand. He lost his left hand and wrist in an industrial accident at age 22.

JONES WAS back in the winner's circle Sunday night at the Speedway. He took the lead from Dukas in the 15th lap and drove a '74 Nova to the 30-lap win.

The "Beat-Your-Neighbor" races were crowd pleasers as Joe Guzzo from Deerfield drove a '73 Pontiac GranAm to victory in the final elimination over Bill Donnelly of Waukegan. Donnelly drove a '74 Plymouth Trail Duster.

The next "Beat-Your-Neighbor" races are scheduled at Waukegan Friday night, July 4, in connection with a program which also will include a powder puff derby, a roll-over contest, hobby races and the season's first demolition derby.

DOMESTIC AND INTERNATIONAL

ABC's of Travel

By BARB CORBIN

Now that Youth Fares to Europe (ages 12 to 21) have been approved, however domestic were not; there will be many features for the youth to take advantage of. From time to time I will be featuring Student and Youth travel news; in the meantime, give a call on any questions.

For those of you who will be or might be considering going over to a foreign country, stop in and get your free 1975 Student Travel Catalog. This will answer many questions.

Another great savings is to obtain the INTERNATIONAL STUDENT SCHOLAR IDENTITY CARD before you leave the United States. This particular I.D. Card entitles you to the following discounts:

Up to 50 percent discount on rail and bus travel in many countries.

Up to 25 percent reduction on ferry service.

Up to 20 percent on products and services including clothes, cameras, posters, groceries, bikes, books, etc.

Discounts at various theatres, hotels and guest houses.

Remember, one of the best ways of seeing a country is to be a part of their work camp program. With these you have to sign up for a month but you get free room and board. Any of you who want to learn the language 100 percent, this is a darn good way of doing it.

Speaking of foreign countries, the next time you take a planeride and the captain informs you of the temperature in the centigrade scale and not the fahrenheit scale, don't be alarmed. The country is moving closer to the metric system use and Canada is converting to the system this month.

The government stations are switching over, which means when they do all the airlines will be reporting as such also. This means they will inform you on the inches of snowfall and rainfall in centimeters instead of inches. The world is becoming more centralized all the time.

Park Committee Plans Fun

"In the good ol' summer-time" this year in Antioch are some new attractions: pre-school and grade school day camps, golf lessons and tennis lessons.

The programs are sponsored by a citizens' group, the Village of Antioch Park Committee, and are limited to residents of Antioch Township. The committee was instrumental in starting a program for the village, and enlisted the aid of Sue Sedivec, community relations officer.

Day camps will be conducted at the Scout House and Jensen Park, offering playground activity, story telling, garden planting, arts and crafts, movies and field trips. The camps are set up in three two-week sessions, Monday through Friday, beginning next Monday.

Spring Valley Country Club will be the location for golf clinics for ages 12 through high school, offered in two two-week sessions starting July 7.

TENNIS LESSONS for ages 12 through high school start next Monday and will be given in three two-week sessions. The adult group (18 and over) will meet on Wednesday evenings for five weeks, beginning June 18. Lessons for both age groups will be at Jensen Park, the Aqua Center and the high school.

For further information and applications contact Miss Sedivec, 395-2160 or the village hall. Donations of time and tennis and golf balls, hangers, paper clips, newspapers, Sunday comics, paper towel rolls, string, yarn, plastic margarine containers, paste, colored paper, crayons and paper cups are requested and should be taken to the village hall.

Members of the committee, chaired by Clifford Houghton, are Marsha Starcevic, Gail Fields, Pat Lorenz, Eunice Mueller, Dick Kessler and Bruce Bartosz.

Nancy Jablonski and Kathy Langhof have helped coordinate the programs, which will be taught by Joan Larsen, Jane Kleinschmidt, Pam Fredevich, Chuck Spillner and Ron Welpurn.

The Lake Region Homemakers met recently at the First National Bank of Antioch's social room.

Mrs. Barbara Miller conducted a "corsage making" session.

The members were entertained by viewing a slide showing of Williamsburg, Va.

Mrs. Ann Connors' talk about early colonial life in Williamsburg was very enlightening.

The business meeting began with the installation of the newly-elected officers: Mrs. Jean Proctor, president; Mrs. Marge Poulos, first vice-president; Mrs. Peggy Van Patten, second vice-president; Mrs. Marion Rhode, secretary, and Mrs. Martha Fallon, treasurer.

A pot-luck supper is planned June 19. Each member is to bring a dish to pass around during the meeting at 7:30 p.m. at the First National Bank.

Meyer Wins Lake Geneva Feature

In the first full All-American Late Model Sportsman stock car racing at the Lake Geneva Raceway Sunday, point leader Roger Meyer of Lake Mills, Wis., won over Sid Norton, McHenry.

The two drivers battled close for the final 12 laps through three restarts when slower cars spun and blocked the fast traffic.

Meyer also set fast time and started from the back of the 16 car field.

There were two semi-features and they were won by Jeff Hutchinson, Paddock Lake, and Carl Saylers, Zion.

Heat race winners were Dan Rausch, Kenosha; Ralph Rau, Paddock Lake; Dale Brandenburg, Janesville, and Sid Norton.

The "Battle of the Speedways" racing will continue each Sunday night at Lake Geneva with cars from many tracks competing for the overall win of their own Speedway.

Meyer represents Lake Geneva and Sid Norton races for the Wilnot track.

RACING AT Lake Geneva Saturday night was highlighted by the first roll-over of the season. A win string of five straight features was broken as well as a high number of crashes in all three classes of stock cars.

The roll-over driver was Doug Alheit, McHenry. He was assisted from his car but was not injured.

The late model feature was close battle as point leader Al Schill and runner-up Vern Browne finally got by leader Gary Kreiger.

Jack Ester, Antioch, who had set fast time again this week, finished third.

OAKWOOD KNOLLS NEWS

By JUDY PHILLIPS

Roberta Warren and her children, Keith, Brad and Carleen, moved to California last week to join Frank who had been transferred to his company's Los Angeles office.

The Warrens will be residing in Yorba Linda, Calif. Frank and Roberta were very active in the subdivision association and the Antioch community. Frank served as president and vice-president of the Oakwood Knolls Property Owners Association and was a volunteer aide in the math program at the Upper Grade School. They certainly will be missed!

ROBERTA WAS honored at a surprise farewell party given by her neighbors on Lakewood Dr. at the home of Estelle Gatch Sunday, June 1. Roberta received many beautiful gifts including a treasured family heart-shaped locket from her mother. Among those attending were Estelle, Roberta, Keith, Brad, Carleen, Jane Kish, Ramona Pyzyna, Roseann Mazzo and her children Bridget and Chuck, Loretta Schiffmann, Pearl Roach, Anne Carpenter, Carol Barker and her son Sean, Judy Phillips, Doris Jones, former Oakwood Knolls resident, and Roberta's parents, Ray and Renee Ruehle.

They feasted on a delicious buffet of roast beef, ham, corned beef, polish sausage-sauerkraut-potato dumpling casserole, marinated chicken wings, salads, desserts and punch.

All the ladies dieted the rest of the week to lose the pounds gained eating the delicious food.

During the party Estelle Gatch received a pleasant surprise, too - a call from her daughter, Barbara Dauajare and son-in-law, Francisco, and grandchildren Anna Marie, Deborah and David who live in Sid Norton, which culminated as Collins ducked inside with one lap to go and squeeze past both Norton cars going into the third turn.

Both Collins and the Norton brothers received a standing ovation at the end of one of the most exciting races of the season.

Finally, rookie driver Dan Hagi capped the evening in the final race - the semi-feature for sportsman cars - as he battled Bill Edwards in a slam-bang dual reminiscent of old-time car racing.

After some preliminary fender bending, Edwards came up behind Hagi and shoved his car into the infield. Then Hagi came roaring back to catch Edwards on the final lap and returned the favor by slamming into him and spinning his car off the track, leaving an easy run for the checker for Hagi.
